Campaign for $3,000,000 Endowment for Northfield Schools Is Now in Full Swing

WEDDED AT RUSSELL SAGE CHAPEL SATURDAY

Jessie M. Hall and Walter W. Hyde, Both Alumni of the Northfield Schools

Russell Sage chapel at Northfield Seminary proves to be a favorite place for alumni of the Northfield schools at which to return for marriage. On Saturday, Nov. 16, at 4 p. m., Miss Jessie Marguerite Hall of East Northfield, daughter of Mrs. Milton Warner Hall of West Hartford, Conn., a former student at the seminary, and Walter Wadsworth Hyde, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Hyde of Tullahoma, Tenn., a former student of Mount Hermon school, were united in marriage at Sage chapel by Rev. Lester White of the Bible department of Mount Hermon school, who used the single ring service. Miss Marion Keller of the music department of the seminary, presided at the organ, rendering the wedding marches.

The bride was attended by Miss Martha Cooper of Campello, Mass., as maid of honor, and the best man was Paul Williams of the faculty of Mount Hermon school. Stewart Hall, brother of the bride, gave her in marriage. The bride was lovely in a gown of brown chiffon with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of tallman roses. The maid of honor wore a deep orange colored dress and carried chrysanthemums of a deep orange shade.

The chapel decorations were ferns and yellow chrysanthemums. Immediately following the marriage ceremony a reception was given at Crane cottage, with fully 80 of their relatives and friends present. Here the decorations were yellow chrysanthemums and yellow candles. The bride cut the cake, and ice cream, cake and punch were the refreshments. Crane cottage has been the Northfield home of the bride for several years. Her traveling costume was a blue and gray tweed suit with black hat.

The bride was born in Cheshire, Conn., and attended Northfield Seminary and the Fine Arts and Crafts School of Boston. She has been employed at the East Northfield Bookstore. Mr. Hyde, a native of Tennessee, was graduated from Mount Berry school, Mount Berry, Ga., and attended Mount Hermon school. He is now employed by the school as a carpenter. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Hyde will live in the apartment in the house of Dr. Allen H. Wright, which was recently vacated by Mr. D. Birdsall and family. Mr. and Mrs. Hyde have many friends in East Northfield and at Mount Hermon, who heartily congratulate them and wish them the best.

Governor's Committee to Make Highways Safer For All

The appalling increase in the number of deaths and accidents in the United States due to automobiles was the reason for a recent conference in Washington, D. C.

The outcome of the conference was that President Hoover told the delegates to return to their respective States and inform their Governors that as the matter was not inter-State, each State would have to solve its own problems.

The Governor of Massachusetts, therefore, appointed a committee of 100 prominent people in the State, and they in turn asked the various cities and towns to appoint their committees. There are now 355 towns in Massachusetts with committees, and the Selectmen of Northfield have asked the following men to act on this committee: S. E. Walker, chairman; G. L. Gilbert, C. E. Williams, M. E. Morgan and F. B. Holton.

This is a town affair and we want the assistance and support of every citizen. We hope to make our highways safe for all our citizens and visitors, both pedestrians and those riding. This will mean an effort on the part of every individual citizen, including the children. Last year in Massachusetts there were 715 people killed and 40,192 injured in automobile accidents. It is the aim of the Governor's committee on street and highway safety to reduce and, if possible, stop this calamity.

From time to time we hope to give information that will be of benefit to you through the courtesy of these columns, and if you have helpful suggestions or complaints of the breaking of traffic laws, we are here to serve the town.

Buy Your T. B. Xmas Seals Next Week

Plans for the selling of Tuberculosis Christmas Seals are now completed and next Friday morning the opening will be announced by the ringing of bells at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. O. H. Pefferle, our local chairman, will mail to any home a letter containing $1 worth of seals. Please help such a worthy cause by sending in your dollar, but if you cannot buy the seals, return them in the addressed envelope enclosed.

If any one does not receive the seals or wishes for more, notify Mrs. Pefferle or call 110, and they will be gladly mailed to you. Last year over $300 was received from Northfield, and we hope we can do even better this year.

Local Odd Bits o' News

Mrs. Ellen Stebbins of Springfield is at her apartment on Birman road.

Col. Herman Dowd of Orange, N. J., is visiting his daughter, Mrs. F. W. Pattison.

Mrs. Addie Solandt of Newfane, Vt., is visiting her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Solandt.

Dr. and Mrs. Lafayette Lake of Belmont were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Allen H. Wright over the week-end.

Rev. F. W. Pattison, who is conducting evangelistic services at West Springfield, preached at Grace Congregational church of Holyoke last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Cuyler of Brooklyn have arrived at the Northfield hotel for several weeks, as usual at this season.

Prof. H. H. Morse gave an interesting account of the Pilgrims from their departure from England to Holland and their landing at Plymouth, with the story of the early years of the settlement. This was an appropriate talk for the Thanksgiving season.

At this time, Mrs. Howard Briggs spent the week-end in Williamstown, where Mr. Briggs recently preached for three Sundays. Both Mr. and Mrs. Briggs were guests at the house party given by Phi Gamma Delta fraternity at the college.

Mrs. J. R. Colton has returned from a month's visit with her mother in Uncasville, Conn.

Miss Blanche Walker was home from Providence for the week-end and to attend the Hall-Hyde wedding.

Mrs. Philip Rodgers and children of Cambridge have been spending several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Brary.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Tenney, who have lived with her father, F. E. Atwood, since their recent marriage, have now gone to Brattleboro to make their home.

Rev. C. C. Conner returned Monday afternoon from Amesbury, where he supplied the pulpit of the Universalist church for three Sundays. He is wanted to take pastoral charge of the church, together with Mrs. Conner. They will consider it.

Mrs. J. A. Stebbins will have her Thanksgiving party at her home over the coming week-end. She expects Mrs. Frank Stebbins and two sons of Brattleboro, Mrs. Ella Stebbins Nash of Springfield, and Mr. and Mrs. William Dinham of Glastonbury, Conn. Mrs. Stebbins plans to return with the Dinham's to her brothers in Springfield.

Mrs. William Chase of Woodmere, L. I., has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Moody.

World Fellowship Institute Opens Next Sunday

Next Sunday evening, at the vestry of the Congregational church, the World Fellowship Institute opens, to continue four consecutive Sunday evenings. The institute opens each evening at 6.15, with a social time and lunch, with tea and cocoa provided. At this time, exhibits from various mission fields may be viewed. At 7 p. m., the groups for the institute assemble. Mrs. Deming of Mount Hermon has the younger children and Prof. Barrus of Mount Hermon has the young people. The older group has a different leader each meeting. The coming Sunday evening, Mrs. Howard A. M. Briggs will lead. Our church projects will receive special attention. At 8 o'clock, in the church audience room, general assembly of the groups will take place, with special speakers. Next Sunday evening a pageant will be given, entitled "The Way of the Cross." This will be followed by a talk on mission work in Siam by Mrs. Hartzell, who is now living in one of the Spring Garden Mission houses.

W. C. T. U. Monthly Meeting On Wednesday Afternoon

Mrs. Howard A. M. Briggs, a representative of the State Constitution Defense committee, was the chief speaker at the monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U., which was held Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Briggs has been active on this committee with Mrs. Elizabeth Tilton of Boston, who is its chairman, for several weeks in Berkshire County. She gave a clear account of this project for constitutional defense.

Miss Dorothy Newton, president of the Young People's branch, spoke of their work and also of the Y. P. B. camp at Shoran last summer.

The Loyal Temperance Legion, of which Mrs. Barrows and Mrs. Forsaith are the directors, were present and gave their rally cry salute to the flag and a song. Guests were present from Greenfield, Orange and Mount Hermon. Mrs. Carl Mason was chairman of the social committee and made the social hour delightful with the arrangement of tables, decorations and refreshments.

Seminary Buildings

Teachers Institute

Some 60 teachers and members of public school boards of this district superintendency, met here Friday for a teachers' institute. In the forenoon the sessions are at the high school. Superintendent L. W. Robbins speaks on methods and discipline, and an expert in penmanship from New York city speaks. In the afternoon, at the Town hall, Dr. Allen Wright speaks on what the doctor and nurse expect from the teacher and vice versa. Miss Fairs G. Throulin, a teacher of Warwick, a graduate of Pose Mission speaks on corrective posture. Principal Charles Russell of Westfield Normal school gives the afternoon address, his subject being Advanced Methods in Teaching.

Thanksgiving Service

In observance of the original meaning of Thanksgiving day, a service of thanksgiving will be held at the Congregational church at 10.45 a. m. Thursday, Nov. 28. As is the custom of this society, contributions are asked of fruits, vegetables, preserves, jellies and money, to be given at this time to the Franklin County hospital. Some of these contributions, which should be at the church Wednesday afternoon or evening, will be used for decorations for the Thanksgiving service. From Jan. 1 to Oct. 25, the number of patients from Northfield treated at this hospital was 38.

He: "Will you kiss me?"
She: "I'm that just like a man, always trying to shift the responsibility."

The Friendly Class

Miss Jennie Haight, who spent much of the past year in France, gave a delightful talk on her vacation there before the Friendly class, which met at the home of Mrs. Joseph Ross Monday evening of this week. Mrs. F. W. Pattison also spoke on plans for the law enforcement work which is being organized in Northfield. A preliminary drill discussion was led by the president, Mrs. Ralph Forsaith. Nine young women were present. Mrs. Ross and a committee provided refreshments for the social hour.

The Berean Class

The Berean class held its annual meeting last Friday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. F. A. Holton, with 18 present. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Holton; vice-president, Mrs. Allison Wright; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. E. P. Howard; recording secretary, Mrs. P. W. E. Hart; chairman of mission committee, Mrs. F. E. Evans; chairman of membership committee, Mrs. Hart; class teacher, Miss Pennock. The members reported 90 calls made since the last meeting in October. Tea and cake were served and the afternoon spent socially.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank our neighbors and friends for the sympathy and help so kindly extended to us in our recent bereavement, and for the beautiful flowers which helped to lighten our sorrow.

Commercial Aviation Subject at N. E. Conference

With Governor Frank G. Allen playing a prominent part in the proceedings, the Fifth New England Conference is now on at Boston.

The program of the Massachusetts dinner will be devoted largely to the subject of aviation and its importance to Massachusetts. Joshua L. Brooks of Springfield, chairman of the Massachusetts division of the New England Council, will preside. Mayor Malcolm A. Nichols of Boston will say a word of welcome. Governor Allen will speak on "Maintaining Prosperity in Massachusetts." Hon. Charles Francis Adams, Secretary of the Navy, will talk on naval aviation.

"The Future of Aviation in the United States" and "The Future of Aviation in New England" will be discussed respectively by Clarence M. Young, Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Aeronautics, and Edward P. Warner, former M. I. T. professor, now editor of "Aviation Magazine."

Reports of Massachusetts Council activities will be made by four members of the council: Dr. Arthur W. Gilbert, Commissioner of Agriculture; Major P. F. O'Keefe of Boston, Col. Frederick H. Payne of Greenfield, chairman of the Massachusetts Industrial Commission, and Secretary Spear of the Massachusetts Council. There will be election of new members of the Massachusetts Council.

NORTHFIELD HIGH SCHOOL NEWS AND NOTES

Several interesting programs have been given on recent Friday afternoons. On Nov. 1, Miss Bailey gave a sketch of the life and inventions of Thomas Edison, in commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the invention of the incandescent lamp.

On Nov. 8 there was an Armistice day program, with Dr. Webster and S. E. Walker as speakers. Last Friday in recognition of Children's Book week, selections from some of the favorite children's stories were read by Kenneth Leach, Robert White, Elizabeth Eastman, Catherine Gray and Miss Taylor.

Glen Billings, '32, had an unusual accident Thursday. He started on his bicycle to school but in some way was thrown off and knocked unconscious. When the school bus came along he was found lying on the road. Fortunately his injuries, though painful, were not serious, and he is now able to attend school again.

The Fortnightly

This (Friday) afternoon the Fortnightly is having two leaders in federated club work for women, Mrs. Edward A. Rice of Deerfield, who speaks on Our District Forest, over which there is now a question whether the clubs will retain it; and Mrs. Robert C. Harper, who reviews the recent Preliminary Council. A trio from Sunderland will furnish the musical program. Mrs. J. F. Kendrick is chairman of the hostesses for the social and refreshments.

Grange Supper and Meeting Next Monday

The Northfield Grange will have its next regular meeting of Monday, Nov. 25. A supper will be served.

Vice-Commander Foy of the State membership committee of the American Legion will be at Post headquarters in Greenfield on Sunday next at 2.30 p. m., and hopes to meet good delegations from all the posts in this section.

Northfield Historical Society Meeting Last Saturday

The directors of the Northfield Historical Society met at the Dickinson Library last Saturday evening. Those present were Dr. Florence Colton, president; Mrs. F. H. Manogue, treasurer; L. R. Smith, Leon Alexander and A. P. Pitt.

It was arranged to hold the next quarterly meeting of the society on Tuesday, Dec. 3, at the Town hall, when a free public lecture on King Philip will be given by Prof. H. H. Morse, with stereopticon slides loaned for the occasion by the Old South Historical Society of Boston. King Philip was one of the greatest Indian chiefs in American history, and Northfield was his headquarters during important periods.

The directors inspected the north room upstairs which the library trustees have offered to the Historical Society as a meeting place and museum. Action will be taken on this offer at the quarterly meeting.

Leonard R. Smith was requested to draft a resolution for the coming meeting looking to the establishment of a building fund for the society.

Northfield Neighbors Meet in Springfield

The Northfield Neighbors met Tuesday, Nov. 12, for another of their pleasant social gatherings. Miss Lillian Thatcher and her committee served an excellent supper at 6.30. The menu included scalloped oysters, salads, pickles, rolls, apple pie and cheese, cake and coffee. Flowers and Thanksgiving napkins decorated the tables. After supper a short business meeting was held, and then cards were enjoyed for the rest of the afternoon.

Mrs. Leila Allen won first prize and Miss Florence Lyman and Mrs. Carrie Britton received consolation prizes. The Neighbors were pleased to welcome Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Britton and hope to see other friends from Northfield during the winter. The next meeting will be held Dec. 10, a Christmas party.—Nina M. Field, rec. sec.

Eastern Star Have Supper at Regular Meeting

A family supper was a feature of the monthly meeting of Northfield Chapter, O. E. S., Wednesday evening at Masonic hall. After the business session, at which Worthy Matron Mrs. F. H. Montague presided, a one-act play, entitled, "The Minister Comes to Tea," was given by members, which prove entertaining.

THREE MILLION DOLLAR ENDOWMENT FUND

Tri-County Campaign For This Section of Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Vermont is Launched

The Northfield Schools campaign for a $3,000,000 endowment fund is progressing. On Wednesday evening, at the Mansion House in Greenfield, a banquet was held, where the campaign for Franklin County's share in the work was launched. Amert G. Moody is general chairman for the tri-county drive, which includes Windham County, Vt., Cheshire County, N. H., and Franklin County, Mass. Atty. Charles N. Stoddard of Greenfield is general chairman for Franklin County, and this county is divided into four divisions with Mrs. A. G. Moody of this town, Rev. W. J. McCullough of Greenfield and A. Moody of Turners Fall and one other as county leaders. These will choose five captains for each division, and the captains will organize teams to solicit funds and pledges for the endowment. Similar drives will be launched in other parts of the State and country.

The Northfield Schools need a $3,000,000 capital fund for the following purposes: $500,000 teachers' retirement plan; $300,000 increase in faculty salaries, a total of $15,000 per year; $200,000 imperative repairs and remodeling of oldest buildings; $2,000,000 general endowment to fund a portion of the current operating deficit. Several trustees of the school have provided a fund to meet all the expenses of the campaign. The students pay only $9 a week for room, light, heat, food and all classroom instruction; each student on the average pays $415; the total cost for a year, per student, averages $650; the average deficit for each student is $235. Part of this is met by income from endowment, and $125 of it must be raised each year.

Salaries at Northfield are low and this is one of the outstanding reasons for the present effort to create a $3,000,000 capital fund. Salaries in both the girls' school and the boys' school are below prevailing standards. The situation at Mount Hermon is most serious. Their salaries are today lower in purchasing power than they were in 1914.

These teachers have given years of faithful service. Their loyalty has not been rewarded. It has been penalized. The highest salary at Mount Hermon is not as high as the average paid in Eastern preparatory schools. The present average of $1,887 is $1,000 less than the general average.

At Northfield Seminary nine teachers are receiving less than $1,200. The average is only $1,332. It is not fair to place such a strain on the lives and loyalty of the fine men and women who are serving these institutions. There is a debt of honor due these teachers that must be paid.

Evangelistic Work in West Springfield is Appreciated

Rev. F. W. Pattison, who has been in West Springfield the past two weeks in evangelistic work, writes of increasing interest, and in spite of rainy weather, the largest church in the city was well filled.

William R. Moody spoke at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon for men only at the First Congregational church, his subject being "The Great Pioneer." Mr. Pattison will be home this week-end and will speak the coming week at the Community Y. M. C. A.

Sir Philip Ben Greet in "Hamlet" at Auditorium

Sir Philip Ben Greet and his players give Hamlet in the Auditorium Saturday night—a rare opportunity for this community. Mount Hermon faculty, and students, Deerfield Academy and many from surrounding towns have bought tickets for this event. Tickets are on sale at the Northfield Drug Store and Kenarden hall.

The Woman's Alliance of the Unitarian church will hold a Christmas sale in the church vestry, Dec. 4. The regular Alliance meeting, which comes on that date, will be omitted and the January meeting will be with Mrs. H. A. Hoxie.

West Northfield South Vernon, Mass.

Mr. E. W. Church is on the sick list. Mrs. Frank Holton is ill with heart trouble.

Miss Florence Griswold spent the week-end with Miss Julia Ennis.

Week-day church will be on Friday at 3.30 p. m. at the South schoolhouse.

Lester Jilison of Dummerston, Vt., visited his mother, Mrs. Herbert Jilison, Sunday.

Mrs. A. Wheeler went to visit her daughter last week, Mrs. Mary Wood, in Hennike, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hudson of Brattleboro, Vt., spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. William Burrows.

Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Stockwell and daughter, Margaret, of Athol, Mass., were recent guests of Mrs. J. A. Lawrence.

Mrs. Organic has returned from the Farren hospital, much improved in health, after an operation for gall stones.

Vincent Avery and Clarence Lyman and his friend, Miss Dorothy Acworth, of Easthampton, Mass., were callers at the home of Mrs. A. T. Jackson.

The Mission Study class met at the Vernon Home Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Cates is the leader. They are studying the lives and works of different missionaries.

Harold Smart of Boston, Mass., and Miss Edna Bond of Springfield, Mass., were guests of his mother, Mrs. Eva Smart, and his grandmother, Mrs. Mary Gates, for the week-end.

Mrs. E. P. Edson had a bad accident Tuesday evening. While doing chores at the barn, a calf got away. She caught it, and it was so strong it deep gash in the top of her head and dragged her around. She received a was scratched all the way down one side of her head, making the blood run freely. She managed to get into the house unaided, but is rather sore.

Mrs. Ralph Holton has returned from a three-weeks' stay at Brattleboro Maternity hospital at Brattleboro, Vt., where she had been receiving treatment for a complication of diseases.

There will be special Thanksgiving services at both the South Vernon church at 10.45 a. m. and at the Vernon chapel at 12.05 p. m.; mid-week prayer meeting at the Vernon Home at 7.30 p. m. Thursday.

Northfield Farms

Lewis Wood and his mother, Mrs. Frank Wood, spent the week-end with friends in Boston.

The Community club supper and social Friday evening netted the club treasury nearly $18.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Richardson and family and Mrs. Carr and son, Lyle, of Greenfield, visited at Harry Glazier's Sunday.

Mrs. Eva Stacy and Frank Howe spent Sunday at the Starky Inn in Colrain, going over with Calvin Soper of Millers Falls in his car.

Vivian Coutu was working Saturday on a new well which Frank Wood is having dug back of his house, in the hope of having a sufficient water supply.

The children of the primary department of the Sunday school held a party, with games, refreshments and a general good time in Union hall Saturday afternoon.

The meeting of the Boy Scouts was held at the home of Harry Glazier Monday evening. The boys are having their meetings during the cold weather at the homes of different scouts because the club house is not heated at present.

Rev. Alfred Evans of West Northfield was in charge of the Sunday evening service in Union hall, and gave a fine sermon. Special music for the evening was furnished by five little girls of the primary department, who sang.

The Community Club held a social in Union hall Friday evening. The entertainment consisted of music and comedy sketches. The program: Song, Auld Lang Syne; comedy sketch, Charles Elbridge and Charles Scoble; vocal solo, Lewis Wood; piano solo, Marion Leach; comedy sketch, Lewis Wood and Harry Glazier; song, America. Following the entertainment, a luncheon was served by the ladies in the dining room. A sizable sum was realized for the treasury of the club.

Glenn Billings suffered a painful accident on his way to high school Thursday morning. He was riding his bicycle and in some way he got off the road so far, going down Scott's hill, that the front wheel of his bicycle dropped into a catch basin, throwing him off and knocking him unconscious.

When the school bus came along, he was lying beside the road. He was taken to Northfield in the bus, but after he reached the schoolhouse, his condition was such that his parents were notified. Fortunately, no bones seemed to be broken, but he suffered bruises and a severe shaking up.

A WEE BIT O' SCOTCH

A Scotchman was discovered wandering around Detroit with a pair of rumpled trousers over his arm. "Can I help you in any way?" asked a kindly citizen. "Man," replied the Scot, who was evidently a newcomer, "I'm looking for the Detroit Free Press."

Gill

A Bible study class has been organized in town by Rev. A. L. Truesdell of Bernardston and C. P. Buffum of So. Vernon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bogue and two children drove to Clinton, Conn., on Armistice day, where Mr. Bogue indulged in his favorite sport of black bass fishing.

Marjorie Bogue was operated on at the Diagnostic clinic last Friday for the removal of her tonsils. She was able to return to her home in the late afternoon, and is making satisfactory progress.

The first meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Zoyle last Tuesday evening, with 16 present. Richard Gordon of Bernardston and Bernice Ware were chosen leaders of the contest to increase the membership who gains the greater number of ship, and it is expected that there will be keen rivalry between the sides to points.

The "better kitchens" meeting held last Wednesday at the Town hall was very interesting and well attended. Miss Frances Munn presided and introduced Mrs. Seibert of the extension service, who gave many helpful ideas as to how kitchens might be made more convenient, especially as to the arrangement of equipment. The date of the next meeting will be announced later.

Montague

Schools will be closed next Wednesday noon for the Thanksgiving recess.

Many of our young people are expected home from school and business for Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Smith spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mitchell in Springfield.

Mrs. Oscar Slifer is teaching the seventh grade until a regular teacher is secured to succeed Miss Mason.

H. O. Outhbertson and family are about to move from the Masonic building tenement into Miss Benjamin's house.

THANKSGIVING THANKS

At three hundred years the first Thanksgiving thanks were given on this continent; and today, although the form may have changed, the spirit of thankfulness remains. To adults, the thanks are more for intangible than for material things, but the children prefer to be thankful for turkeys and pumpkin pies and candy and raisins and all the good things which go to make up a real Thanksgiving dinner.

Jingles for Each

When the family gathers in the home and when dinner is announced, what child doesn't grow round eyed and ecstatic and make a lunge toward the dining table? Of course there will be favors on it. An Indian canoe in the center of the table can be flanked by dolls dressed in Puritan costume. From the canoe centerpiece, have colored ribbons running to the covers, and when the eager diners pull them, appropriate toys tied to them must appear. The child who adores his dog may receive a toy one, the girl who loves to draw a miniature golf home economics teacher to master. If some person in the family has a knack for making, one could accommodate, and could be read merriment of every-

all, the dinner's time. That's why we put a menu

Pear and Grape Cocktail
Roast Stuffed Capon
Candied Sweet Potatoes
Carrots, Peas and Celery
Creamed White Turnips
Cranberry and Apple Ice
Hearts of Lettuce with Roquefort Dressing
Pumpkin Pie with Honey-Pecan Garnish
Mints Coffee Nuts

which will make anyone's mouth water in anticipation at the top of this story. And the recipes—which are planned for eight people—fulfill the menu's promise. Here are the directions for making the meal:

Pear and Grape Cocktail: Cut canned pears in four pieces lengthwise and arrange like four petals in a glass. Peel halved, seeded white grapes in the center. Arrange groups of red, green and yellow small preserved grapes on top and garnish around the edges with a fringe of fresh mint. Mix pear and orange juice to taste and pour over. Serve very cold.

For the Main Courses

Carrots, Peas and Celery: Simmer the peas from a number 2 can, and the diced carrots from an eight-ounce can together for about five minutes. Cook three-fourths cup of diced celery until tender, drain and add to the carrots and peas. Season with butter, salt and pepper.

Cranberry and Apple Ice: Boil one-fourth cup of sugar with one and one-half cups of water for three minutes. Soak one teaspoon of gelatin in one-fourth cup of cold water for five minutes, then dissolve in the hot syrup. Add one teaspoon of lemon juice. When cold, add contents of an eight-ounce can of apple sauce and of an eight-ounce can of cranberry sauce. The latter should be well mashed or pressed through a sieve. Freeze to a mush. Add one beaten egg white and continue freezing. Serve with the main course of the meal.

Drops of Gold

Pumpkin Pie with Honey-Pecan Garnish: Mix one-half teaspoon salt, three-fourths teaspoon ginger and one-half teaspoon of cinnamon with two-thirds cup of sugar. Add to one and one-eighth cups of canned pumpkin. Add two slightly beaten eggs and one cup of milk. Pour into a pastry-lined pie tin and bake, having oven hot at first (450° F. for 15 minutes) then lower (325° F. for 30 minutes) until set. Serve with unsweetened whipped cream dropped by spoonfuls over the top. Pour honey little drops over the cream and sprinkle the whole with pecan meats.

SILVER RADIO

SILVER RADIOS are just so good that in California—even during the summer months—one after another brings in Japan, Australia and New Zealand! Almost any SILVER RADIO owner on the west coast can get the thrill of hearing such programs on a clear night just before dawn from a good location—and coast-to-coast reception is almost regular "fare."

It takes an extraordinary radio to give such results. And that is what SILVER RADIO is—way out in front of the pack! To show you its superiority we will make before you four of the most amazing tests you have ever witnessed—the "Ice Pick Test", the "Vanishing-Aerial Test", the "Hairpin Test", and the "Coin Test". Or, if you like, we will give you printed instructions so that you may make the tests, anywhere, with any radio!

THE CHRISTMAS ISSUE OF

The "Tri-State Weekly" THE NORTHFIELD PRESS

Will be our regular issue of December 6th, with SPECIAL COVER PAGES IN COLORS
and many additional pages devoted to the Spirit of Christmas.

Each year we try to make our Christmas Issue better than the one of the year preceding, and so far we have been successful.

We plan to make this issue an acceptable one to pass around and mail away to friends everywhere and, as was the case last year, we will print a large edition; but if YOU anticipate using any considerable number for this purpose, it would be well to get your order into us in ample season. Last year, despite the large edition, we had to disappoint several hundreds.

The price for this Special Issue will be the same, Five Cents per copy, as for the regular ones, and, of course, all yearly subscribers will receive it without extra charge.

A year's subscription to this paper (starting this Christmas Issue) is the best kind of a Christmas Gift to a Neighbor or Friend.

For this purpose we have an attractive card, printed in colors, stating that at the direction of (blank space for your name) we have entered (name of addressee) upon our list for a year's subscription to the "Tri-State Weekly." The Northfield Press, and that we hope that the copies we shall have the pleasure of sending each week, in addition to their local interest, will prove a pleasant reminder of the friend who sends this holiday remembrance. This card we mail to your friend under letter postage.

And Hear Ye Now! Ye Advertisers!

In order to secure the best positions, as well as our best picture and type display, YOU are urged to make your space reservations for this Special Issue at once, and to follow along with your copy as soon as possible.

Last year, without an exception, this Special Christmas Issue proved itself to be

A Very Profitable Medium for Advertising

and, this year, without advance in rate and with our increased paid-in-advance and general circulation, it will undoubtedly be even more so.

We can help you with attractive and suitable pictures as well as in the preparation of copy, without additional charge.

Call, write or phone 99 Northfield, and our advertising man will be at your service, without obligation upon your part. That is his job . . . to serve all advertisers to the best of his ability.

Thank you.

Jenness Memorial Fund

At the meeting of the Mrs. Emily Jenness Memorial fund board, held at Frank Root's Wednesday night, Dr. A. V. Bowker was elected president in place of Miss Caroline Barber, who died a few weeks ago. Mrs. C. S. Barber was elected vice-president. The secretary was instructed to draw up resolutions on the death of Miss Barber.

American Legion Auxiliary

The American Legion auxiliary met with Mrs. Mary McGann Thursday evening. After the regular business meeting, a social was enjoyed and refreshments served. The installation of officers will be held Nov. 25. At its last election of officers, the following were chosen: President, Mrs. C. E. Day; vice-president, Mrs. Fred Miller; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Eugene Turner; historian, Mrs. Almon Flagg; chaplain, Mrs. Herman Weimers; sergeant-at-arms, Miss Ruth Wilder.

Powers Institute Notes

The eighth grade won in a spirited attendance contest at Powers Institute for the tenth school week. The percentages are as follows: Eighth grade, school attendance continues to be 97.5 each; sophomores, 97.1. Thus the 98.4; seniors, juniors and freshmen, above 97 per cent.

Friday afternoon, Supt. W. Robbins spoke before the school assembly regarding the meaning of Armistice day. His address was greatly enjoyed.

Thursday morning Miss Latimer, secretary of the Massachusetts Tuberculosis Association, addressed the students on the subjects of "Radiant Health." She asked the high school to take part in the State-wide health play-writing contest. She reminded the school that last year Delmar Magoon wrote a play that was given town and country recognition. She asked the students to go one step further to active State-wide recognition. Then she spoke very interestingly about sleep and candy.

The Goose Lane Bridge Club spent Saturday in Springfield, where it was in the afternoon enjoyed cards.

Miss Marion Denison has returned home from Franklin County hospital, where she was for several weeks, entertained by Miss Nellie Barks, and Mrs. E. D. Stratton, who has been ill with bronchitis, is under the care of a nurse from Greenfield.

Ground School for Mechanics and Pilots to Be Held Here

Arrangements have been completed, with the exception of finding a location, for holding a ground school for airplane mechanics and pilots in Brattleboro, beginning next week. The course will be for 10 weeks, with instruction Tuesday and Friday evenings.

The instructors will be Lieut. E. L. Burke and Lee K. Holland, and the school is to be conducted under the auspices of the Granite State Flying School of Keene, N. H., of which Ray A. Gates is treasurer. It is announced that students will not be signed up after the school starts.

Lieut. Burke is a graduate of Mitchell Field and is an Army Reserve officer. He was chief pilot and instructor and ground instructor at the Albany airport. Mr. Holland is a licensed mechanic, has had experience in all types of motors and understands the rigging of ships.

Flying instruction will be on the Fairchild K. R. 34 and the Wright

Whirlwind motor. The course is designed to fit students to take the examination of the Department of Commerce for ground license mechanics and to put them in a position to pass a written examination in a flying course which is conducted at the flying school in Keene.

When H. R. Randall took over the Clapp partnership, the name was then changed to Randall & Son. Mr. Randall is 87 years old and does not wish to be active in business any longer, and his health, although good, will not permit his taking part in the operation of the store.

Ovando E. Randall, who has been operating a jewelry store at 169 Main street since 1882, has sold his interest in the business to his son, Harry R. Randall, who has been a partner in the firm since the death of A. P. Clapp in April, 1921. O. E. Randall came here from Woodstock in 1882 and opened the store in partnership with Mr. Clapp. The present owner of the business began work there in 1892, the firm then being known as Randall & Clapp.

South Deerfield

Miss Isabella McNerney is the guest of Miss Katherine O'Donnell of Westfield.

Mrs. W. J. Wells is ill in her home and is being cared for by her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Clapp of Athol.

The proceeds of the food sale held Saturday afternoon amounted to $30. This sum will go to the Franklin County hospital.

Mrs. Joseph Grybko accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Guchoski of Sunderland to Webster, where they attended a wedding.

The Red Cross is soliciting jelly and jam for the Veterans' hospital, Northampton, and anyone having donations are asked to leave them with Mrs. P. D. Martin, Sugar Loaf street or Mrs. Ellen Manix, Main street.

The Women's Club will observe New England day Friday, holding a joint meeting with the Longmeadow Women's Club in the parish house of the Congregational church at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Mrs. Guy Spears of Plymouth, N. H., will be the speaker, her topic being, "Present and Future of New England."

Sunderland

Mrs. Perry is editor of the woman's art page of the Springfield Union and is also press chairman of the 18th district of the State Federation. Don Farnsworth, cellist, and Richard Hardman, pianist, of Deerfield Academy, played.

The Women's club held its annual guest night in the chapel Thursday evening at 7.45 o'clock. Mrs. Ernestine Perry of Agawam spoke on "Our Last Frontier," relating her personal observations in the Cumberland mountains. She sang mountain folk songs with dulcimer accompaniment.

The hostesses were Mrs. May W. Hepburn, Mrs. Athena Dickinson, Mrs. Pauline J. Goodyear, Mrs. Grace B. Darling, Mrs. Eleanor H. Hubbard, Mrs. Louise S. Goodyear, Mrs. Minnie B. Clark, Mrs. Belle T. Bullis, Mrs. Fannie H. Warner, Miss Anna Jeselwicz, Mrs. Dorothy W. Batchelder and Mrs. Nellie W. Russ.

Michael Bisho trapped two wild cats on Mt. Toby during the week. The first one was an adult female, weighing 25 pounds. It measured five feet in length when stretched out, and would have weighed considerably more if it had not been very thin. The other was a kitten weighing 15 pounds. A $10 bounty is paid on wild cats. Mr. Bisho has been very successful in his trapping this fall and already has 15 foxes and several mink and skunk to his credit.

Twenty-five Less Children of School Age This Year

There are 25 less children of school age in Deerfield this year than last year, according to the school census recently completed. The report shows 55 boys between the ages of five and seven years, 269 from seven to 14 years, and 63 from 14 to 16 years, making a total of 387, or 11 less than a year ago. There are 46 girls from five to seven years of age, 249 from seven to 14 years, and 64 from 14 to 16 years, making a total of 359, or 14 less than last year.

The school nurse's report for October lists office calls as 35, home calls 58, and dressings 35. Weights and measurements of all children in the ele-

THE JOYS OF EDITING A COUNTRY WEEKLY NEWSPAPER . . . AND HOW?

Quite a lot is being printed nowadays, both in public and technical press, about the ideal retiring place for the worn-out journalist being the editorial chair of a country weekly newspaper. Sounds good but that is all there is about it. Such writers are worse than dumb, for they are just talking without saying a thing. We have been many years in the game and we can see where a worn-out country weekly editor might retire gracefully to the re-write or exchange desk of a city daily, or even take the political and conventional editorial writing of a city daily. Such a job would be just restful and happy for his declining years, after the hula-buloo and bustle of the so-called "editing" of a country weekly.

We put this word "editing" in quotes for the simple reason that so many of these outside writers evidently have not the slightest idea of what the editor of a country weekly really does. And if we started to enlighten them it would take the best part of a whole issue of the paper, and then they would scarcely know the half of it. It would probably be easier to specify just what the editor of a country weekly newspaper DOES NOT HAVE TO KNOW AND DO . . . if it was possible to do so . . . which we very much doubt.

Of course, when all is said and done, the main job of the editor of a country weekly is to get advertising (the life-blood and cause of the whole shebang) and to do this successfully he must be at least as good as any $50,000 a year expert in a general advertising agency. Nay, rather better, for the expert has assistants in all lines, while the country weekly editor has to do the whole experting (including the soliciting which few experts are good at) not only by himself but on HIS OWN INITIATIVE.

The next main job of the country weekly editor is to be at least helpful to every individual he meets and to have with his good right shoulder on every social, fraternal, industrial, sporting, church, club, business, or other public gathering or plan for a gathering that goes on. And in addition to helping all the good ones, he is supposed to fight against or otherwise eradicate all the "bad" ones; although it is very often difficult to separate the sheep from the goats, and no matter what he does, he is bound to lose some advertising or subscriptions by his so doing. Some weekly editors (or are they just weakly?) get out of this mess by doing nothing notimes nohow, but, after a while, they don't have either advertising or subscriptions to lose . . . so there you are.

Now in order to get by with these two main jobs of advertising and being helpful to and with everybody and anything that goes on or is going to go on in all the communities in which the weekly circulates (by some strange hap, very few country weekly editors bother overmuch about the territory a few hundred miles beyond their driving circle although, now that airplanes are getting low-priced and popular, they will likely extend their scope) it will be readily understood that the more accomplishments the weekly editor has, the better he can do his job and the less likely will his paper go on the rocks through lack of advertising or subscriptions. The writing and editing of the paper itself, as well as a certain amount of type-setting, make-up, etc., is just a minor job, to be done in the intervals of serious occupation. That insignificant part of the work is what most any worn-out city journalist could do and is evidently what the stunt writers have in mind in their droolings.

But to be a real editor of a going country weekly (and we mean going and going and not going to gone) a body should have about everything there is and then some. First of all, he must be a mechanic in all lines as well as agricultural and all that goes with it, for he must at least be able to hold up his end with those he serves. And then he must be somewhat of a "doctor, lawyer, merchant, chief, rich man, poor man, beggar man, thief," for in the course of his driving rounds (let alone phone calls to office and residence) there is rarely a day passes without necessity for assisting himself or summoning just the right kind of assistance. He must be a sort of emergency engineer . . . quick-minded enough to do the best that can be done at the moment in any emergency and, at the same time, summoning just the kind of assistance needed, in the most available way.

And so we could go on ad infinitum . . . for, as we remarked at the beginning, . . . it would take the best part of a whole issue of this paper to skim the activities required of the IDEAL SUCCESSFUL EDITOR OF A COUNTRY WEEKLY NEWSPAPER. Please note the "ideal." We mean just that. We do not personally claim to be even a successful country weekly editor . . . let alone an ideal one. We just strive to clatter along, doing our little old best as we see it and not giving one continental hurrah about anybody or anything, except our conscience. But we are sustained by one thing . . . no, two . . . both the dogs and children seem to like us and that is marvelous. So long as we have the friendly tail waggings of the dogs and the trusting confidence of the children (evidenced in their own wonderful ways) we care no more for the plaudits of the crowd than we do for our good right arm. Cheerio!

Selected Recipes

Breakfast Dishes

MARMALADE GRIDDLE CAKES
 2 cups flour
 1 tablespoon baking powder
 1 teaspoon salt
 3 tablespoons sugar
 1 egg
 1½ cups milk
 3 tablespoons melted butter
 Orange marmalade
 Extra sugar

Mix and sift dry ingredients. Add beaten eggs and milk. Beat thoroughly and add butter. Dry by large spoonful on a hot greased griddle. When puffed, full of bubbles and cooked around the edges, turn and cook on the other side. Spread cakes with orange marmalade. Roll up like jelly rolls. Sprinkle with sugar and serve at once.

ORANGE OMELET

8 eggs
 2 tablespoons powdered sugar
 ¼ teaspoon salt
 ½ teaspoon corn starch
 2 teaspoons lemon juice
 ½ cup orange juice
 Sliced oranges for garnishing
 Extra powdered sugar

Separate egg yolks from whites. Mix together the sugar, salt, corn-starch, lemon and orange juice. Beat the egg yolks light and add this mixture to them. Beat the egg whites stiff and dry. Fold in the first mixture and turn into a well-oiled omelet pan. When done garnish with the sliced oranges sprinkled with powdered sugar and serve.

Hinsdale Woman's Club at Mrs. Watson's Tuesday

The Hinsdale Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. Watson Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 12. At that time they observed their 20th anniversary of the organization of the club by an appropriate program, Mrs. F. S. Leonard being in charge. Mrs. Leonard gave some very delightful reminiscences of the club's early days and read an original paper, "What Woman's Clubs Are Doing in America," written in 1911 by Mrs. P. F. Amidon, late of Hinsdale, who was the founder of the club. The roll call, What the Club Means to Me, was responded to by 15 members. Five charter members were present, Mrs. F. A. Davis, Mrs. P. S. Leonard, Mrs. W. D. Stearns, Mrs. E. J. Richards and Miss Minnie Todd. Mrs. Richards, who has served the club as secretary for 18 years, was presented a beautiful bouquet of carnations and each charter member a boutonniere. The hostess served refreshments.

Henry Clay Holland

Funeral services for Henry Clay Holland, who died at his Main street home last Tuesday evening, were held in the home Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Johnson A. Haines, pastor of the First Congregational church, officiated. Mrs. W. H. Bond of Brattleboro sang "Crossing the Bar" and "Wait."

The bearers were William E. Belleville of Riverton, N. J.; George W. Holland of Brattleboro, Vt.; Daniel Roberts of Woburn, Mass., and Harold C. Holland of this town. Those from out of town who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. William E. Belleville of Riverton, N. J.; Daniel P. Roberts of Woburn, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. George W. Holland, Mrs. Ethel May and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Randall, all of Brattleboro. There was a profusion of beautiful floral tributes. Interment took place in the family lot in Pine Grove cemetery.

Last of a Series of Card Parties by Wapahoka Council

The last of a series of card parties, to be conducted by Wapahoka Council, No. 37, D. of P., was held in the hall Monday evening of this week. There were six tables. The ladies' first prize was won by Mrs. Marion Mundell, who had 50 points, and the consolation prize was awarded to Mrs. Lillian Butler, who scored 28 points. Roger Jasnowski, with 55 points, won the gentleman's first prize and the consolation prize was given to Emil Drulia, who had 23 points. Steve Kolodje won the chicken, which was to be given to the person who attained the highest score throughout the series. He had 149 points. Following the party, refreshments were served and dancing enjoyed. The council will conduct another card party Monday evening, Dec. 2, at which time two attractive prizes will be given. Dancing will also be in order and refreshments will be served. A large attendance is desired.

"I've Been Reading"

By WILDER BUELL

THE BOY CAPTIVE OF OLD DEERFIELD, by Mary P. Wells Smith, Little, Brown & Company, pages 295, price $2.00.

No subject has been more discussed in the last 10 or 15 years than that of child training. All our ideas of education, both in the school and in the home, have had a reconsideration and reevaluation. This is partly due to the necessity for changing educational methods to meet the needs of an industrialized life and partly because the study of psychology has advanced, and we know more today about the human mind than we did 20 years ago.

The result is a vast system of experiment. No new plan has been so well tested that it can be called perfect. There are defects in every attempt to put new methods of teaching into the schools. And it is hard to know when the old is worse than the new, or the new better than the old. Because no system of education can be tested until the students have grown up and tried out their training against the actual situations of real life.

We have wonderful schools in some of our large centers, such as the Horace Mann school in New York, where surprising results are being obtained by the newer methods. On the other hand, we have the superintendent of schools of New York city, admittedly one of the leading educators of the country, leading a campaign "back to the three R's." So there you are!

It all depends on circumstances. Are the children young or of an older group? Do they live in the city or in the country? Is there an abundance of space and equipment or are the schools overcrowded? Many questions must be answered before we can question the methods used in any given community.

Nevertheless, there is one thing upon which almost every modern psychologist will agree, and many of those of an older school. It is that the more we know of the workings of the human mind, the greater is the need for care and thought in the training of the very young child. The younger the child, the more lasting the impression. There are those who go so far as to say that no amount of education after the grammar grades will do much good. If the primary education has been weak. Train the mind and character of the little child and the rest of his education will be comparatively easy to acquire.

All of which are a few reflections inspired by reading a book for boys and girls that was published 25 years ago and is still a classic. It has been brought out in new form with lovely illustrations. It is just as fascinating to the little boys and girls of today as it was to their parents. Such is real art. And it has the advantage of being the story, in fiction form, of real people in a real place, a place that may be visited, where some of the houses mentioned in the story are still standing, though the people are long buried in the cemetery. Old Deerfield! The very name brings back to us the romance and the heroism of the old days of the Puritan and his struggle to build a home in the wilderness. I recommend this book to all those who would like to inculcate in their children a love for courage and loyalty to a faith by showing them the examples of our own past.

Creator to Lead People's Symphony Orchestra in Boston

The People's Symphony Orchestra will give a series of ten concerts at the Metropolitan theatre, Boston, starting Sunday afternoon, Nov. 24.

Through the courtesy of the city administration, the Metropolitan theatre will be opened at 1:30 p. m. and the concerts will start promptly at 2 o'clock, lasting until 3 p. m., when the regular program will be presented.

The initial concert this season will be conducted by the picturesque Creator, one of the greatest living individualists in the realm of concert music, and whom some of the leading critics have credited as being the founder of the modern school of conducting. In the 25 years that the fiery Neapolitan leader has been touring the country, he has not shown any signs of losing his grip upon his audiences. The first concert to be presented at the Metropolitan theatre promises not only a brilliant program, but a most spectacular musical entertainment.

Beauty Magic in Your Hands

By DORIS HALE
DuBarry Beauty Consultant

If we on this side of the ocean could become more hand-conscious some of our personal beauty problems would be solved. While in France, I was impressed with the knowledge and skill most women possess in the use of their hands.

We may as well realize that they are jointly responsible for skin loveliness, along with preparations of unquestioned quality.

Of course, we need just the right things to work with! You who are home-makers know that you can't cook if you don't have flour, and eggs, butter and baking powder. So, in caring for your skin, you can't expect to keep it healthy and well-nourished without using just the right applications.

However, in any really fine preparations there is no secret. It is all there in the jar ready for use. The secret—if you still insist on one—is simply to use these scientific aids as they were intended to be used. Now I want to talk to you a little about cleansing the skin.

For simple cleansing I'd suggest three things: a cleansing cream, a lotion that tones and freshens—and, of course, cleansing tissues. Also, and this is most important, you will want the free and full use of both your hands! It's my theory that only by using both hands can you give every single part of your face and neck the kind of treatment it needs.

Now, with your finger tips spread with the fragrant cleansing cream, smooth it up—up—from the base of the neck, all over your face. I like a cream, first of all, that liquefies quickly under contact. It should not require hard rubbing and kneading. Just smooth it on. A good cream penetrates and lifts the dust and grime right out.

Now—again using both hands—take two pieces of cotton and dip each into a freshening lotion, using the middle fingers of each hand. Begin again at the base of the neck and smooth up and up gently. With the excess cream dissolved, and every pore encouraged to breathe again, your skin will feel deliciously clean and cool.

Mount Hermon

Mrs. Julia B. Hawley

The local community was shocked last week to hear of the death of Mrs. Julia B. Hawley late Thursday night, Dec. 14, at the home of her sister, Mrs. S. A. Norton. Mrs. Hawley came to make her sister a visit, arriving only the Sunday before, and seemed to be in her usual health until Wednesday night, when she was taken ill and suffered a cerebral hemorrhage Thursday morning. Mrs. Hawley was 63 years of age; her home was in Hartford and the funeral services were held there. She is survived by two sons and two daughters.

Five Mile Cross Country Race Big Success

In spite of what seemed to be poor weather for outdoor sports, the five-mile cross country race was a great success. Lynch, the winner, broke the record for the course, which has stood since made by Lewis V. G. Watson of the class of '14. Lynch's time was 25:07. Gordon G. Kelley, winner of the two-mile and four-mile runs, came in second, time 25:50; third, W. M. Babcock; fourth, Bliss; fifth, Porter, and sixth, Polhemus, both of East Northfield. They were running almost side by side at the finish. The Bemis medals for the winners will be given out at the Thanksgiving day exercises. However, each of the first 30 men in were presented with a good-sized apple pie at the dining hall on Tuesday. There were 103 men who finished. The score in class points was won by the Seniors.

Women's Literary Society

The November meeting of the Women's Literary Society was held at the home of Mrs. Lyon L. Norton on Thursday evening, Nov. 14. Mrs. Norton, hostess, was assisted by Mrs. Richard L. Watson, Mrs. Rolfe Carmean and Miss Mary T. Baker. The subject for the program was hospitals. Mrs. Lester P. White read a paper giving the history of hospitals and of nursing. Mrs. Lola D. Parker read the famous letter from D. L. Moody outlining his plan for the use of the residence which had been the home of the W. R. Moody family. The letter is known as the "charter of Dwight's home." Miss Speakman read the history of Dwight's home from the day in May, 1903, when she drove over from Northfield to take charge of the school infirmary. At the close of her paper, she presented, with the able assistance of Miss Isabelle Lee and Mrs. Parker, a "sample clinic" at Dwight's home; many "boys" presented themselves with many and varied ailments, the character parts in this scene being taken by Mrs. Helen Newton, Mrs. Arthur D. Platt, Mrs. L. P. White, Miss Evelyn Dill, Miss Hylda Manninen, Mrs. Herman Dickenson and Miss Baker. Refreshments were served. Leonard W. Ellinwood played several piano selections by Cyril Scott and other modern composers.

Miss Evelyn Dill was away over the week-end.

Mrs. Ware of Sullivan, N. H., is visiting the Lawrence family.

A meeting of the Gill school committee was held Thursday, Dec. 14, at the home of the chairman, Roy R. Hatch. Tea was served by Mrs. Hatch at the close of the meeting.

Tea was served last Sunday afternoon by Dean and Mrs. Thomas E. Elder to the officers of the Senior class. Mr. Elder's secretary, Miss Hanninen of Cheshire, Mass., assisted Mrs. Elder in serving.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Kelley of Hartford, Conn., spent the week-end at Northfield and Mount Hermon. They are the parents of Gordon G. Kelley and they came especially to see the five-mile race Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll G. Ross were away over last week-end. They went to Jamaica, L. I., N. Y., to attend the wedding of Mr. Ross's only brother. During their absence Everett Wood had charge of Crossley Hall.

Chapel exercises on Wednesday were made especially interesting by a talk by Louis E. Smith, head of the English department, on the play, "Hamlet," which many of the boys hope to see on Saturday when it is given by the Ben Greet Players at the Auditorium in East Northfield. Mr. Smith's resume of the play will be concluded at chapel exercises this (Friday) morning.

AIR-MINDED

EARL J. SMITH

DETROIT—To make America air-minded is the task laid out for Earl J. Smith, nationally known authority in the chamber of commerce field, whose appointment as assistant to the president and chairman of the public relations division of the Stinson Aircraft Corporation has just been announced.

Mr. Smith, as one of the original stockholders in the corporation, has long been interested in commercial flying, and in his work with various civic organizations and chambers of commerce, has encouraged hundreds of communities to develop airports and prepare for the new age of transportation which is coming.

SOLVED!

The Servant Problem

Hundreds of smart housekeepers have solved the servant problem by installing an Electric Range. With this modern scientific range, cooking is no longer an irksome task, and no longer compels the cook to stay in a hot kitchen. She just starts her cooking and the Electric Range does the rest—and does it perfectly.

Housewives who do not like to cook even with this modern labor saving stove find that with an Electric Range in the kitchen it is easy to keep servants. They like to cook with an Electric Range, it makes cooking so easy, and the kitchen is no longer a hot, uncomfortable place in which to work.

Christmas Ranges Installed Free

All Electric Ranges bought for Christmas will be installed by your dealer free of charge.

SOMETHING ABOUT WORK OF MISS DAISY B. TREEN

Varied Successful Activities of This New Member of the Board of Trustees

A recent issue of the Boston Herald contained an article headed "People You Ought to Know." Then followed the story of Miss Daisy B. Treen, seminary graduate in 1900, now one of the trustees of The Northfield Schools. As Miss Treen is so well known, many will be interested in the following extract from the Herald story:

"For 14 years Miss Daisy Treen has been devoting her time to furnishing school lunches to youngsters in the high and intermediate schools of Boston. This work, of which she never grows tired, is one of the many occupations coming under the supervision of the Women's Education and Industrial Union, on whose staff Miss Treen serves.

"Twenty-one years ago the Union took over the work at the request of the Boston school committee. All the work of planning, requisitioning and seeing that the food is properly delivered is done by Miss Treen and her assistants. Since approximately 16,000 children throughout the city buy food daily at 30 counters, the task is no small one.

"The object of the Union in doing this work is to provide good, nutritious food at the lowest possible cost, so that every child can buy a lunch. Miss Treen's preparation for her job was an extensive one. She worked her way through Northfield Seminary, later taking courses in home economics at Pratt Institute in Brooklyn. When she went to the University of North Dakota as dietitian, she studied evenings and won her degree. Later she took the post graduate course at Columbia. Miss Treen's appreciation of her education at Northfield made her greatly interested in the work that institution is doing in aiding self-help students. She would like to see more being done for this type of girl, particularly in the matter of loan funds.

"While her work is arduous, she feels more than rewarded by the appreciation she gets. She likes to help people and in doing her bit in building well-being, she finds her greatest satisfaction."

Miss Treen is also manager of the New England Kitchen, a high-class restaurant on Charles street, Boston, which serves 1700 daily. This work is also under the direction of the Women's Educational and Industrial Union of Boston.

"Tumble Inn" to Be Given Tuesday Evening

Next Tuesday evening, Nov. 26, the Senior class of the high school presents their play, "Tumble Inn." As the title suggests, it is the story of a not too successful summer hotel. When the play opens, one of the proprietors says sorrowfully about the guests: "As soon as they tumble in, they tumble out." In the hope of making their establishment more attractive, the proprietors advertise for a social entertainer. Behold, in response to their advertisement Mr. Richard Simpson-Sampson, a young socialite who has never had to work but who has his reasons for working now. His choice of occupation nearly proves disastrous; the complications are many and amusing. Nor is Mr. Simpson alone in his troubles. He and his fellow actors are prepared to provide one solid evening of almost constant laughter.

Cast of characters: Hi Hopper, a bell boy, Ralph Miller, Annie Moore, a maid, Marion Bistrek, Miss Amanda Love, a novelist, June Wright, Otis Day and Sommers Knight, proprietors of Tumble Down Inn, Seth Field and Robert Carr; Miss Helen Pepper, a "new woman," Ruth French; Titus Canby, of the New York Observer, Raymond Kervian; Caesar Casket, a retired mortician, Harold Dwyer; Richard Simpson-Sampson, William Carr; Miss Phoebe Byrd, "the Eagle," an aviatrix, Polly Parker; Sue, Catherine Cormie; Peg and Gwendolin, flappers, Lillian Woodbury, Charlotte Lombard; other guests at the hotel; Staffie Worniak, Edith Miner, Flora Calaghan, Elsie Havercroft and Tessie Jackson.

Mass. Turkeys Next With New England Label

The first Massachusetts turkey bearing a New England quality product label was presented to Gov. Frank G. Allen by a delegation of turkey raisers from eastern Massachusetts. The bird is the forerunner of 16,000 Massachusetts turkeys which will be marketed this Thanksgiving under the label. The first to appear on the market was Nov. 20, when the official grade "Massachusetts native fancy" established by the State Department of Agriculture, became effective.

The turkey which will appear on Gov. Allen's table came from the Charlescot farm in Sherborn, owned by Richard Saltonstall, Boston banker, where more than 1,000 turkeys will be sent out under the label this year. Another officially labeled turkey coming from the 3,000-turkey farm of P. J. Davis of Sudbury was presented to Dr. A. W. Gilbert, Commissioner of Agriculture, in recognition of his interest in getting this turkey grade established. Other turkey raisers present when the turkeys were given to the governor and Commissioner of Agriculture were Summer Pingree of the Flying Horse farm in Hamilton, Boston business man, and John Cox of Hamilton, president of the Essex County Turkey Growers Association; Prof. W. C. Monahan, Massachusetts Agricultural College, one of the chief boosters of turkey raising in the State, was also present.

The 16,000 turkeys which will be sold this year bearing the New England quality products label, are about one-third of the turkeys in the State which could qualify. It is expected that many more of the turkey raisers will use the label next year. It is estimated that the increased price on these labeled birds will range from 5-15 cents a pound. This will mean an added return of about $25,000 to the turkey raisers of the State this year. If all turkey raisers were using the label, the increased revenue would exceed $75,000. The turkey raisers find that consumers are glad to pay a higher price if they can be assured of a home-raised turkey inspected and certified by the State Department of Agriculture.

The size to which the turkey business has grown in Massachusetts is indicated by the demand for official tags. Those ordering 1,000 or more tags for use this Thanksgiving were Louis Moreau of Middleton, Mrs. W. P. Bullard of Norwell, Mr. Saltonstall, Walter F. Poole of Ipswich, Mrs. Oakes Ames of North Easton, Mrs. Spencer Borden of Fall River, F. J. Davis of Sudbury, D. M. Runge of Norton, C. W. Anderson of Franklin and Charles Chifre of Medway.

Turners Falls

A surprise birthday party was given to Charles McCarthy at his home on Avenue A Saturday evening. There were 12 guests present and a chicken dinner was served, following which a social time was enjoyed and Mr. McCarthy presented a number of gifts.

The annual Red Cross drive started locally and will be continued to Thanksgiving day, by which time it is hoped that all old members will have re-enrolled and new members added. Arthur E. Burke, who has headed the drive for the past several years, will again act as general chairman, with Fred C. Abernethy as chairman of the corporations committee, and Linwood E. Hewitt as chairman of the employees' committee. The town will be divided into 20 districts.

Millers Falls

Earthquake Echoes

Considerable excitement was caused in some sections of the village about 3:45 o'clock Monday afternoon by an earth tremor. In several houses pictures on the walls shook and pictures rattled. At the tool-making department of the Millers Falls company's plant, the lights flickered and shook and the machines wobbled so that it was necessary for some operators to shut their machines off. The disturbance lasted about 30 seconds. Local students of the Turners Falls high school, upon their return to Millers Falls reported that a similar condition was experienced at the high school there. Pictures and lights shook to such an extent that those in the building congregated and exchanged notes in an endeavor to determine what had happened. No serious damage was done, so far as could be ascertained.

THANKSGIVING SALE

THANKSGIVING DINNER—THE FEAST OF FEASTS

Did you ever wonder why Thanksgiving comes only once a year? Perhaps the Pilgrim hunters wondered why it came so often. Mother Pilgrim always insisted on having Turkey for this day of feasting. All the other Pilgrims had Turkey. Father Pilgrim knew that meant rejoicing for either the Pilgrim Family, or some unfriendly Indian family. As Father Pilgrim stalked the Turkey, he kept one eye open for Father Indian who stalked him—there was plenty of excitement. If Father Pilgrim came home with his scalp and a Turkey, the Pilgrim Family was thankful, and had their Thanksgiving Dinner.
